MAKE YOUR WAY TO US

Narendra Bhawan Bikaner is composed of Narendra Singhji's memories from his travels to destinations near and far. Unconventionally curated, the Bhawan organically grew into a snapshot of the life of its original resident who upon spreading his wings was subconsciously casting a new modern identity for himself much like that of his mother country.

LIFE AT THE HOTEL

ACCOMMODATION

Residence Room (63) - 330 sq. ft.

Comfortably appointed, the Residence rooms are a tribute to the eclectic tastes of the household. Light and fresh, these rooms are a calm sanctuary set apart from the hyper-activity of the city.

Prince Room (8) - 530 sq. ft.

The young prince on the threshold of maturity designed his apartments to reflect his growing leanings towards a western lifestyle. Featuring luxe velvets, English prints, glittering mirrors and mosaic, the Prince rooms reflect a youthful exuberance that underpins these glamorous living quarters.

Regimental Room (3) - 634 sq. ft.

The Regimental rooms reflect a ceremonial order that appealed to the military man who became king. The rooms are thoughtfully curated with art and objects, and a rich colour palette that adds warmth and comfort to these stately rooms.

India Room (3) - 530 sq. ft.

The India rooms are quintessentially Indian but fashioned for the cosmopolitan traveller such as yourself. Curated primarily in Indigo - the symbolic colour of this nation, these rooms are a cocoon where ease and contentment are accentuated.

Republic Room (3) - 730 sq. ft.

The Republic room are dramatic rooms where strong confident lines and a colour palette in steely blue and concrete grey suggests a very contemporary conclusion. Chic to the core, this is an architects' room inspired during an era when the great architects of India, stalwarts in the imagination of the public, created spaces that were startlingly new.

EXPERIENCES & EXPLORATIONS

CULINARY

White Nights of the Rajput

Maharaja Narendra Singh ji of Bikaner visited the Darbari lake to satiate his passion for hunting. The white canopies are decorated with blinking soft white lights and the lanterns cast a glow to the atmosphere. The picture becomes complete when you sit down on a low mattress style seating against the backdrop of the Darbari lake with the flutist plays gentle music for a complete private experience. To add to the delight, our seasoned chef and the hospitality team serve subtle delicacies and fiery flavours under the starlit sky, a true feast for the kings.

Sundowners

"After a long day attending to my dear guests, as well as the papers that concern both my business and philanthropic enterprises, I look forward to a gloriously gratifying drink and convivial chitchat with my friends as we head out and drive into the hinterland of my beloved Bikaner."

As paradoxical as it may sound, deep in the heartland of the Bikaner desert, in secret enclaves between rocky escarpments are found acres of soft green pastures and lush oases, mystifying the eye and delighting the spirit. It is here that we find ourselves far away from the bustle of people in pristine settings that are almost biblical, celebrating our legendary Narendra Bhawan sundowners.

EXPLORATIONS

Merchant Explorations

'The Bikaner of my ancestors thrived due to its prime location along the caravan routes between western and central Asia. Enriched by this bountiful trade the nobles and the merchants of Bikaner built palaces, havelis and temples in red sandstone that stand pristine to date.'

Let's experience this living material heritage carved in stone. A chaperoned walk through the city is a must.

Royal Explorations

Bikajee Ki Tekaree - Laxminath Temple - Sadul Museum - Lalgarh Palace - Laxmi Niwas Palace - Royal Cenotaphs at Devi Kund Sagar.

'Come experience a guided exploration of my beloved Bikaner with an introduction to its 500-hundred-year-old story, an abundance that is graciously transcribed in its palaces and lovingly preserved in museums. History you see, lives in every nook and corner of this ancient city.' Take a tour of the palaces that are truly unique, and the fort that is both magnificent and fascinating. These historical storehouses are amongst the best this country has to offer.
